

ETHNIC BANDHANI

INTERIORS

This colour palette is an ode to our ethnic traditions that keep us rooted and help us pass on generational wisdom through a rich heritage of arts and crafts. This tonal arrangement draws from the vibrant blues so typical to the 5000 year old art of dyeing textile originating in Rajasthan and Gujarat. Consider this our way of celebrating an amalgamation of ethnic folk art and present day decor themes.

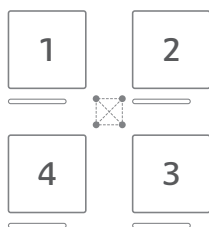

Bandhani

Bring the sky indoors. Use multiple shades of blue, add contrast, try decorative painting techniques, add a classic stripe or subtle accents. Intersperse it with white wall trimmings. Install traditional tiles to compliment the walls. Add chinoserie elements with a hint of matt gold to give your interiors a look of elegant opulence, or settle for a serene space with softer shades. From minimal accents to indulgent mono-colour spaces, a hint of blue can add a whole lot of perspective to a room.

Shades are shown for indication purpose only. Actual shade appearance may vary based on the light source and sheen.

EXPLORER
DRAVIDA

INTERIORS

The Dravidian decor style is a defining part of Hindu temple architecture in South India, that reached its creative zenith in the 16th century. It is considered to be one of the major styles of temple building in the ancient book of Vastu Shastra and was followed by several kingdoms and empires ranging from that of the Cholas to the Cheras and even the Vijayanagara empire. This form is distinctive for its use of a range of earthy yellow colour tones.

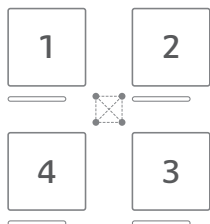

Dravida

Yellow signifies sanctity and it is considered to be one of the most auspicious colours. It is versatile and can take many forms - from a bright cheerful tone that evokes happy memories to richer, muted options that reflect an aura of quiet, classic sophistication. This lively colour palette lets you explore a whole new look for your interior walls that draws from tradition but is timeless in its appeal.

NATURAL

GOOD EARTH

INTERIORS

What was once limited to whimsical seasonal flower arrangements and earthen pottery collections adorning corners, has now made way for a full blown nature inspired organic look for the entire home. A burst of cheery pastel hues, pops of accent colours offsetting a soothing neutral backdrop. Creating the mood for the perfect setting to escape to when the mercury soars. Reminiscent of long lost summer holidays, new blades of grass, clear blue skies and settling down with a book and a bowl full of jamuns. This palette is all about exuding a cool summer vibe.

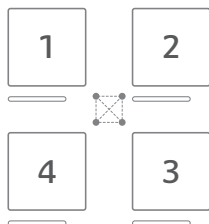

Good Earth

Create an array of looks that make use of the play of white, ivory and neutral colours with bright pastel accents. Add a layer of elegance with botanical inspired framed prints or fabrics. Hang an ivory mat, throw in a display of corals or starfish, or add a lush verdant fern here and there. There are so many ways to bring this colour palette of vibrant summer hues alive.

MODERN
ROOF GARDEN

INTERIORS

The poet and philosopher Rumi said, "The garden of love is green without limits, and yields many fruits other than sorrow or joy." How fitting those words are even to describe a home filled with love? A place to nurture and tend to.

And adorn in colours that make it look vibrant, thriving and alive. So harness the tranquil beauty of calming summer hues, fresh from the Roof Garden. An interplay of muted green tones and soft pink blooms defines this decor theme, creating a modern look that is in trend.
