This colour palette is an ode to our ethnic traditions that keep us rooted and help us pass on generational wisdom through a rich heritage of arts and crafts. This tonal arrangement draws from the vibrant blues so typical to the 5000 year old art of dyeing textile originating in Rajasthan and Gujarat. Consider this our way of celebrating an amalgamation of ethnic folk art and present day decor themes.

Bandhani

Bring the sky indoors. Use multiple shades of blue, add contrast, try decorative painting techniques, add a classic stripe or subtle accents. Intersperse it with white wall trimmings. Install traditional tiles to compliment the walls. Add chiniserie elements with a hint of matt gold to give your interiors a look of elegant opulence, or settle for a serene space with softer shades. From minimal accents to indulgent mono-colour spaces, a hint of blue can add a whole lot of perspective to a room.

The Dravidian decor style is a defining part of Hindu temple architecture in South India, that reached its creative zenith in the 16th century. It is considered to be one of the major styles of temple building in the ancient book of Vastu Shastra and was followed by several kingdoms and empires ranging from that of the Cholas to the Cheras and even the Vijayanagara empire. This form is distinctive for its use of a range of earthy yellow colour tones.
